

Level 2 Clinical Instructor Education and Credentialing Course

February 2 & 3, 2018
Friday, 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.
Saturday, 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Orthopedic and Neurologic Physical Therapy Residency programs at A.T. Still University, Department of Physical Therapy

Course description and objectives

The Level 2 Credentialed Clinical Instructor Program (CCIP) brings two constructs together in one professional development program that advances both clinical teaching and best practice when providing students clinical education. Using a case-based and interactive approach to education, this program will provide participants with the essential knowledge and skill to more effectively teach and mentor students in the context of a doctoring profession, across core areas of contemporary professional education and clinical practice that foster best clinical teaching and best practice in patient/client management. The program's unique philosophy and design will enable clinical educators to achieve the best outcomes for student learning by concurrently advancing concepts of clinical teaching and clinical practice.

The program is divided into three distinct parts:

1. Pre-course assignments that include reading three articles and completing three of the online professionalism modules
2. Advanced clinical instructor education via an interactive didactic course format that is appropriate to all physical therapist clinical educators
3. Assessment (credentialing) of curricula outcomes through an assessment center to apply information from the ACCIP

These components are used together to provide and assess the knowledge and skill identified as essential for Advanced CIs.

1.675 CEUs – 16.75 contact hours

Intended audience: physical therapists and physical therapist assistants

Firm registration deadline: Jan. 12, 2018.

Instructor

Lori Bordenave, PT, DPT, PhD, received her degree in physical therapy from St. Louis University in 1985, her doctor of physical therapy from A.T. Still University in 2007, and her PhD in 2016 from Nova Southeastern University. She is currently the director of progression and retention and an associate professor in physical therapy at A.T. Still University. She was the academic coordinator of clinical education for 10 years, overseeing clinical placements and support of clinical instructors (Cis) and students. Prior to joining the faculty, she was a coordinator of clinical education for eight years at a hospital in Scottsdale, Arizona. Dr. Bordenave was credentialed as a trainer for the Level 1 CI credentialing course in 1998 and in 2007 she was credentialed as a trainer for the Level 2 CI credentialing course. Additionally, Dr. Bordenave has served on the clinical instructor education board from 2005-08 and currently serves on the clinical instructor education workgroup.
