Join an interdisciplinary audience of dental and dental hygiene clinicians, academicians and researchers, dental and dental hygiene students, nurses, physicians and scientific and industry partners from Arizona and the surrounding region as we learn about Arizona's oral healthcare and research communities. The goals for this Symposium include:

1. Share new knowledge obtained through original research
2. Translate current findings from research to support best practices
3. Increase and diversify the number of individuals engaged in oral health research
4. Cultivate collaborative partnerships to improve the oral health of the community
